While the gain in the number of schools and scholars had been most gratifying Dr Pilchers paper was not so encouraging as to the character of the instruction given in many schools, and by a large percentage of the teachers.

Grading of the schools, he reported, was generally neglected after the infant department, which in itself afforded a fine example of the practicability of a graded school. Old Men and Boys There.

Dr. R. H. Pitt presided over the night meeting. Nearly 300 men and boys gathered in the lecture room of the church and marched into the sudditorium. Among them were gray-haired men who had come from a distance, but were once members of the church, and young boys, some of them in times trousers and young boys, some of them in knee trousers.

The services were entirely reminiscent in their character. After the invocation and a scripture reading by the Rev. B. B. Jackson, of Blackshipt, the pastor, the Rev. D. M. Ramsay, D. D., read a poem written many years ago by Colonel Thomas J. Evans, for a Sunday school anniversary. The Rev. R. J. Whilingham, D. D., delivered the prayer, and Dr. Gardner made a brief reminiscent speech, chiefly concerning his connection with the church while a student at Richmond College, and later as pastor.

Dr. Hatcher, for twenty-six years pastor of the church, was presented as the speaker of the evening. He was in his happiest yein, and though his pastorate covered more than one-third of the life of the church, he rapidly sketched its pleasures and pains, encouragements and tribulations, from the lines upon which it ought to be met.

In December, 1898, at the time you were employed by me, there was pending and in the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio, very serious and difficult litigation. A proceeding in contempt had been instituted by the Attorney-Gendraw from the trust agreement. The Supreme Court directing it to withdraw from the trust agreement. The company had answered, issues boen made up and a considerable volume of testimony taken.

There was also pending against the Buckeye Pipe Line Court and in gradient litigation. A proceeding it to withdraw from the trust agreement. The company had answered, issues boen made up and a considerable volume of testimony taken.

There was also pending against the Buckeye Pipe Line Court and in the lines upon which it ought to be inet.

The testimony having been closed, the dismissal of the contempt case was finally submitted to the Supreme Court, finding the defendant of the supreme Court, finding the defendant of the supreme Court dismissal of the proceedings.

A little later the four ouster cases were also dismissed of the then company had answered, issues boen made up and a considerable volume of testimony taken.

There was also pending against the Buckeye Pipe Line Court at the suggestion of the then and the proceedings.

The testimony having been closed, the dismissal of the contempt case was finally submitted to the purpose of considering the proposed readjustment of the tariff, promises to become more interesting from the trailing submitted to the supreme Court, and in the contempt case was finally submitted to the purpose of considering the proposed readjustment of the tariff, promises to become met.

The importance of the litigation could hardly, from the standpoint of the Standard, be overrated.

V. P. Kilne to you, under date of October 6, 1963.

I was associated with Mr. Kilne in the cases he refers to in his letter and know that the statements contained in his letter are true.

Yours truly,
